

1) What could you do with this life you've been given that would make you look forward to showing the results to your creator?

A large, empty rectangular box with a dashed border, intended for the user to write their response to the first question.

2) Who are you serving? Why are you drawn to this? Be reflective on whether your goal is worldly or heavenly.

A large, empty rectangular box with a dashed border, intended for the user to write their response to the second question.